

Free Attractions

As Ben Franklin said, "A penny saved is a penny earned." Be sure and visit these free attractions in Philadelphia.

Arch Street Meeting House (free/donations accepted)

320 Arch Street
215-627-2667

The meetinghouse features dioramas, a slide show on Penn, displays of Quaker artifacts and a special exhibit, "Philadelphia Quakers-Politics and Government."

Arch Street United Methodist Church (free/donations accepted)

55 N. Broad Street
215-568-6250

www.archstreetume.org

Church and sanctuary, est. 1862, with neo-gothic architecture.

Bishop White House

309 Walnut Street
215-965-2305

www.nps.gov/inde/bishop-white.html

Preserved 18th-century house and garden of the First Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania.

Carpenters' Hall

320 Chestnut Street
215-925-0167

www.carpentershall.org

The Carpenters Company built carpenter's Hall in 1774. Weeks after its completion, the Hall hosted meetings of the First Continental Congress.

Christ Church (free/donations suggested)

Second & Market Streets
215-922-1695

www.oldchristchurch.org

This is "the nation's church" where George Washington, Betsy Ross and Benjamin Franklin worshiped.

The Church of the Holy Trinity

1904 Walnut Street
215-567-1267

For 140 years, the church has been spreading the Episcopal faith to the community.

City Hall

Broad & Market streets
215-686-9074

The largest and most elaborate city hall in the country features a 548-foot tower, topped by a 37-foot bronze statue of William Penn.

Congregation Mikveh Israel

44 N. Fourth Street
215-922-5446

www.mikvehisrael.org

Founded in 1740, the "Synagogue of the Revolution" is still going strong, maintaining its unchanged tradition.

Congregation Rodeph Shalom

615 N. Broad Street
215-627-6747

www.rodephshalom.org

Founded in 1795, this is one of the oldest Ashkenazic congregations in the Western hemisphere.

Congress Hall

Sixth & Chestnut Streets
215-597-8787

www.nps.gov/inde

Built in the late 1780's, this is the location of the first House of Representatives and U.S. Senate when Philadelphia was the nation's capital.

Declaration House

Seventh & Market Streets
215-597-8787

www.nps.gov/inde

This was the house where Jefferson lived while drafting the Declaration of Independence.

Edgar Allen Poe National Historic Site

532 N. Seventh Street

www.nps.gov/edal

Explore the house where Poe lived during the most productive years of his life. Some of the author's most famous works were written here.

Elfreth's Alley (free/tour of Mantua Makers House & Museum $2 fee)

Second Street (between Arch & Race Streets)

215-574-0560

www.elfrethsalley.org

Step back into the 1700's on the oldest continuously occupied residential street in the United States (est. 1702).

The Fabric Workshop and Museum

1315 Cherry Street, 5th floor

www.fabricworkshopandmuseum.org

The Fabric Workshop and Museum is the only museum in the United States creating new work in fabric and experimental materials in collaboration with emerging and established internationally recognized artist.

Fireman's Hall Museum (free/donations accepted)

147 N. Second Street

215-923-1438

www.firemanshall.org

A fun place to learn the history of firefighting and safety tips. In this restored 1902 firehouse find apparatus' as well as traditional and interactive exhibits.

First Unitarian Church of Philadelphia

2125 Chestnut Street

215-563-3980

The first church in North America to call itself Unitarian.

Franklin Court

Market Street, between Third & Fourth Streets
215-597-8787

www.nps.gov/inde

Site of Ben Franklin's home, print shop and first U.S. Post Office.

Galleries at Moore College

20th Street & Benjamin Franklin Parkway
215-965-4045

www.thegalleriesatmoore.org

International and contemporary art are exhibited at the Center City school.

Historic St. George's United Methodist Church

235 N. Fourth Street
215-925-7788

www.geocities.com/Athens/Forum/1767

Among artifacts housed here are the Francis Asbury Bible, the John Wesley Chalice Cup and the Joseph Pilmoor Journal.

Independence Hall

Chestnut Street, between Fifth & Sixth Streets
215-597-8787

www.nps.gov/inde

Pennsylvania's first State House. Site where the Declaration of Independence was adopted and the Constitution written.

Independence National Historic Park

From Second to Sixth Streets (between Walnut & Race Streets)
800-537-7676

www.nps.gov/inde

America's most historic square mile with more than 50 free attractions including the Liberty Bell, Independence Hall and more.

Independence Visitor Center

Sixth & Market Streets
800-537-7676

www.independencevisitorcenter.com

Located in Independence Historic Park, the center provides an orientation to the history and attractions of Philadelphia and the region.

Italian Market

Ninth Street between Wharton & Christian streets

Philadelphia's Italian Market is the oldest and largest working outdoor market in the United States.

Kimmel Center Tours

260 South Broad Street
www.kimmelcenter.org

Home to eight Resident Company performing arts organizations (including The Philadelphia Orchestra, Opera Company of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania Ballet) the Kimmel Center offers two themed tours through its sparkling, glass-roofed performing arts complex. The Building & Theater Tour (Tuesday-Sunday, 1 p.m.) and the Art & Architecture Tour (Saturdays, 10:30 a.m.) depart from the information desk at Commonwealth Plaza, are led by experienced volunteer guides and are limited to 20 participants on a first-come, first-serve basis. Visitors may register for the tour at the information desk which opens at 10 a.m. daily.

The Korean War Memorial

Penn's Landing

www.philakoreanmemorial.org

The Korean War Memorial, dedicated at Penn's Landing in Philadelphia on June 22, 2002, is a monument to the 610 soldiers, Sailors, Airmen, Marines and Coast Guardsmen from Philadelphia and the surrounding counties who fought and died during the Korean War. The monument also serves as a reminder of the historical importance of the Korean War which took place between 1950 - 1953.

Mario Lanza Institute and Museum

712 Montrose Street

215-238-9691

www.mario-lanza-institute.org

This tribute to actor/tenor Mario Lanza showcases the place where he received his first musical education.

Masonic Temple

One N. Broad Street

215-988-1900

www.pagrandlodge.org

This National Historic Landmark is home to the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Pennsylvania.

Mother Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church

419 Richard Allen Ave. (S. Sixth Street)

215-925-0616

www.motherbethel.org

This site is the oldest piece of property continuously owned by African Americans. A small museum is located on the lower level, which contains the tomb of Richard Allen.

National Museum of American Jewish History

55 N. Fifth Street

215-923-3811

www.nmajh.org

Plans for the new museum are on display along with "It's Your Story," a film highlighting American-Jewish achievements and Vision.

National Shrine of St. John Neumann

1019 N. Fifth Street

215-627-3080

www.stjohnneumann.org

The body of St. John Neumann is laid to rest beneath the glass altar in the shrine.

Old City Arts District

215-625-9200

www.oldcity.org

Old City has been transformed into an active cultural, dining and shopping district.

Old First Reformed Church

Fourth & Race streets

215-922-4566

www.olderfirstucc.org

One of the oldest German Reformed churches. It is now housed in a restored 1837 Federal-style building.

Old Pine Street Presbyterian Church

412 Pine Street
215-925-8051

www.libertynet.org/oldpine

The building which was designed by Robert Smith, is the only remaining Colonial Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia.

Old St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church

321 Willings Alley
215-923-1733

www.OLDSTJOSEPH.ORG

Founded by the Jesuits, this is the site where Catholic Mass first was celebrated legally in Philadelphia.

Old St. Mary's Church

252 S. Fourth Street
215-923-7930

www.stmaryholyltrinity.org

This was the first cathedral of the Diocese of Philadelphia. The cemetery is the burial place of Commodore John Barry, "father of the American Navy."

Pennsylvania Hospital

800 Spruce Street
215-829-7352

www.pahosp.com

This is the nation's first hospital, founded in 1751 founded by Benjamin Franklin and Dr. Thomas Bond.

Philadelphia Ship Preservation Guild

801 S. Columbus Boulevard & Spruce Street
215-238-0280

www.gazela.org

Visitors can step back in time aboard the 1833 wooden tall ship Gazela and the 1904 tugboat Jupiter.

Philadelphia Vietnam Veterans Memorial

Columbus Boulevard & Spruce Street

This memorial, recognized for its architectural style, honors the 642 Philadelphia residents who died in the Vietnam War.

Polish American Cultural Center Museum

308 Walnut Street
215-922-1700

www.polishamericancenter.org

The museum features Polish history, culture, paintings and "Great Men and Women of Poland," a pictorial display of Poland during World War II.

Quaker Information Center

1501 Cherry Street
215-241-7024

www.quakerinfo.org

Located in the lobby of Friends Center, a three building complex housing nine Quaker organizations, it provides information about the Religious Society of Friends.

Reading Terminal Market

51 N. 12th Street

215-922-2317

www.readingterminalmarket.org

As one of the most interesting places to visit in Philadelphia, the market is regarded as the best farmers' market in the United States.

Rodin Museum

22nd Street & the Ben Franklin Parkway

215-763-8100

This museum houses the largest collection of Rodin sculptures and drawings outside of Paris.

Society Hill Synagogue

418 Spruce Street

215-922-6590

www.societyhillsynagogue.org

When a small group of Jewish families seeking a new urban congregation took over this building in 1967, it became Society Hill Synagogue, a conservative congregation and registered landmark.

South Street

Eight blocks from the Pennsylvania Convention Center, South Street features a wide range of shopping, from modern art to supped-up skateboards.

St. John the Evangelist Church

21 S. 13th Street

215-563-4145

Founded in 1830, the church of St. John is in the heart of Philadelphia. Thomas Penn, the great grandson of William Penn, is buried in the graveyard next to the church.

Temple Beth Zion-Beth Israel

300 S. 18th Street

215-735-5148

www.bzbi.org

This conservative synagogue is housed in a magnificent, historic Gothic stone building, which dates back to the 1890s.

Tenth Presbyterian Church

1701 DeLancey Street

215-735-7688

www.tenth.org

All are welcome to visit this historic landmark and distinctive symbol of spiritual strength.

Tomb of the Unknown Soldier

Washington Square, between Sixth & Seventh streets on Walnut Street

This is the only tomb in the United States built in memory of unknown Revolutionary War soldiers.

Wagner Free Institute of Science

1700 W. Montgomery Ave

215-763-6529

This museum and educational institution has survived nearly unchanged since the 19th century.

Free Attractions

As Ben Franklin said, "A penny saved is a penny earned." Be sure and visit these free attractions in Philadelphia.

Arch Street Meeting House (free/donations accepted)

320 Arch Street
215-627-2667

The meetinghouse features dioramas, a slide show on Penn, displays of Quaker artifacts and a special exhibit, "Philadelphia Quakers-Politics and Government."

Arch Street United Methodist Church (free/donations accepted)

55 N. Broad Street
215-568-6250

www.archstreetume.org

Church and sanctuary, est. 1862, with neo-gothic architecture.

Bishop White House

309 Walnut Street
215-965-2305

www.nps.gov/inde/bishop-white.html

Preserved 18th-century house and garden of the First Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania.

Carpenters' Hall

320 Chestnut Street
215-925-0167

www.carpentershall.org

The Carpenters Company built carpenter's Hall in 1774. Weeks after its completion, the Hall hosted meetings of the First Continental Congress.

Christ Church (free/donations suggested)

Second & Market Streets
215-922-1695

www.oldchristchurch.org

This is "the nation's church" where George Washington, Betsy Ross and Benjamin Franklin worshiped.

The Church of the Holy Trinity

1904 Walnut Street
215-567-1267

For 140 years, the church has been spreading the Episcopal faith to the community.

City Hall

Broad & Market streets
215-686-9074

The largest and most elaborate city hall in the country features a 548-foot tower, topped by a 37-foot bronze statue of William Penn.

Congregation Mikveh Israel

44 N. Fourth Street
215-922-5446

www.mikvehisrael.org

Founded in 1740, the "Synagogue of the Revolution" is still going strong, maintaining its unchanged tradition.

Congregation Rodeph Shalom

615 N. Broad Street

215-627-6747

www.rodephshalom.org

Founded in 1795, this is one of the oldest Ashkenazic congregations in the Western hemisphere.

Congress Hall

Sixth & Chestnut Streets

215-597-8787

www.nps.gov/inde

Built in the late 1780's, this is the location of the first House of Representatives and U.S. Senate when Philadelphia was the nation's capital.

Declaration House

Seventh & Market Streets

215-597-8787

www.nps.gov/inde

This was the house where Jefferson lived while drafting the Declaration of Independence.

Edgar Allen Poe National Historic Site

532 N. Seventh Street

www.nps.gov/eda

Explore the house where Poe lived during the most productive years of his life. Some of the author's most famous works were written here.

Elfreth's Alley (free/tour of Mantua Makers House & Museum $2 fee)

Second Street (between Arch & Race Streets)

215-574-0560

www.elfrethsalley.org

Step back into the 1700's on the oldest continuously occupied residential street in the United States (est. 1702).

The Fabric Workshop and Museum

1315 Cherry Street, 5th floor

www.fabricworkshopandmuseum.org

The Fabric Workshop and Museum is the only museum in the United States creating new work in fabric and experimental materials in collaboration with emerging and established internationally recognized artist.

Fireman's Hall Museum (free/donations accepted)

147 N. Second Street

215-923-1438

www.firemanshall.org

A fun place to learn the history of firefighting and safety tips. In this restored 1902 firehouse find apparatus' as well as traditional and interactive exhibits.

First Unitarian Church of Philadelphia

2125 Chestnut Street

215-563-3980

The first church in North America to call itself Unitarian.

Franklin Court

Market Street, between Third & Fourth Streets

215-597-8787

www.nps.gov/inde

Site of Ben Franklin's home, print shop and first U.S. Post Office.

Galleries at Moore College

20th Street & Benjamin Franklin Parkway

215-965-4045

www.thegalleriesatmoore.org

International and contemporary art are exhibited at the Center City school.

Historic St. George's United Methodist Church

235 N. Fourth Street

215-925-7788

www.geocities.com/Athens/Forum/1767

Among artifacts housed here are the Francis Asbury Bible, the John Wesley Chalice Cup and the Joseph Pilmoor Journal.

Independence Hall

Chestnut Street, between Fifth & Sixth Streets

215-597-8787

www.nps.gov/inde

Pennsylvania's first State House. Site where the Declaration of Independence was adopted and the Constitution written.

Independence National Historic Park

From Second to Sixth Streets (between Walnut & Race Streets)

800-537-7676

www.nps.gov/inde

America's most historic square mile with more the 50 free attractions including the Liberty Bell, Independence Hall and more.

Independence Visitor Center

Sixth & Market Streets

800-537-7676

www.independencevisitorcenter.com

Located in Independence Historic Park, the center provides an orientation to the history and attractions of Philadelphia and the region.

Italian Market

Ninth Street between Wharton & Christian streets

Philadelphia's Italian Market is the oldest and largest working outdoor market in the United States.

Kimmel Center Tours

260 South Broad Street

www.kimmelcenter.org

Home to eight Resident Company performing arts organizations (including The Philadelphia Orchestra, Opera Company of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania Ballet) the Kimmel Center offers two themed tours through its sparkling, glass-roofed performing arts complex. The Building & Theater Tour (Tuesday-Sunday, 1 p.m.) and the Art & Architecture Tour (Saturdays, 10:30 a.m.) depart from the information desk at Commonwealth Plaza, are lead by experienced volunteer guides and are limited to 20 participants on a first-come, first-serve basis. Visitors may register for the tour at the information desk which opens at 10 a.m. daily.

The Korean War Memorial

Penn's Landing

www.philakoreanmemorial.org

The Korean War Memorial, dedicated at Penn's Landing in Philadelphia on June 22, 2002, is a monument to the 610 soldiers, Sailors, Airmen, Marines and Coast Guardsmen from Philadelphia and the surrounding counties who fought and died during the Korean War. The monument also serves as a reminder of the historical importance of the Korean War which took place between 1950 - 1953.

Mario Lanza Institute and Museum

712 Montrose Street

215-238-9691

www.mario-lanza-institute.org

This tribute to actor/tenor Mario Lanza showcases the place where he received his first musical education.

Masonic Temple

One N. Broad Street

215-988-1900

www.pagrandlodge.org

This National Historic Landmark is home to the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Pennsylvania.

Mother Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church

419 Richard Allen Ave. (S. Sixth Street)

215-925-0616

www.motherbethel.org

This site is the oldest piece of property continuously owned by African Americans. A small museum is located on the lower level, which contains the tomb of Richard Allen.

National Museum of American Jewish History

55 N. Fifth Street

215-923-3811

www.nmajh.org

Plans for the new museum are on display along with "It's Your Story," a film highlighting American-Jewish achievements and Vision.

National Shrine of St. John Neumann

1019 N. Fifth Street

215-627-3080

www.stjohnneumann.org

The body of St. John Neumann is laid to rest beneath the glass altar in the shrine.

Old City Arts District

215-625-9200

www.oldcity.org

Old City has been transformed into an active cultural, dining and shopping district.

Old First Reformed Church

Fourth & Race streets

215-922-4566

www.olfirstucc.org

One of the oldest German Reformed churches. It is now housed in a restored 1837 Federal-style building.

Old Pine Street Presbyterian Church

412 Pine Street
215-925-8051

www.libertynet.org/oldpine

The building which was designed by Robert Smith, is the only remaining Colonial Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia.

Old St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church

321 Willings Alley
215-923-1733

www.OLDSTJOSEPH.ORG

Founded by the Jesuits, this is the site where Catholic Mass first was celebrated legally in Philadelphia.

Old St. Mary's Church

252 S. Fourth Street
215-923-7930

www.stmaryholyltrinity.org

This was the first cathedral of the Diocese of Philadelphia. The cemetery is the burial place of Commodore John Barry, "father of the American Navy."

Pennsylvania Hospital

800 Spruce Street
215-829-7352

www.pahosp.com

This is the nation's first hospital, founded in 1751 founded by Benjamin Franklin and Dr. Thomas Bond.

Philadelphia Ship Preservation Guild

801 S. Columbus Boulevard & Spruce Street
215-238-0280

www.gazela.org

Visitors can step back in time aboard the 1833 wooden tall ship Gazela and the 1904 tugboat Jupiter.

Philadelphia Vietnam Veterans Memorial

Columbus Boulevard & Spruce Street

This memorial, recognized for its architectural style, honors the 642 Philadelphia residents who died in the Vietnam War.

Polish American Cultural Center Museum

308 Walnut Street
215-922-1700

www.polishamericancenter.org

The museum features Polish history, culture, paintings and "Great Men and Women of Poland," a pictorial display of Poland during World War II.

Quaker Information Center

1501 Cherry Street
215-241-7024

www.quakerinfo.org

Located in the lobby of Friends Center, a three building complex housing nine Quaker organizations, it provides information about the Religious Society of Friends.

Reading Terminal Market

51 N. 12th Street

215-922-2317

www.readingterminalmarket.org

As one of the most interesting places to visit in Philadelphia, the market is regarded as the best farmers' market in the United States.

Rodin Museum

22nd Street & the Ben Franklin Parkway

215-763-8100

This museum houses the largest collection of Rodin sculptures and drawings outside of Paris.

Society Hill Synagogue

418 Spruce Street

215-922-6590

www.societyhillsynagogue.org

When a small group of Jewish families seeking a new urban congregation took over this building in 1967, it became Society Hill Synagogue, a conservative congregation and registered landmark.

South Street

Eight blocks from the Pennsylvania Convention Center, South Street features a wide range of shopping, from modern art to supped-up skateboards.

St. John the Evangelist Church

21 S. 13th Street

215-563-4145

Founded in 1830, the church of St. John is in the heart of Philadelphia. Thomas Penn, the great grandson of William Penn, is buried in the graveyard next to the church.

Temple Beth Zion-Beth Israel

300 S. 18th Street

215-735-5148

www.bzbi.org

This conservative synagogue is housed in a magnificent, historic Gothic stone building, which dates back to the 1890s.

Tenth Presbyterian Church

1701 DeLancey Street

215-735-7688

www.tenth.org

All are welcome to visit this historic landmark and distinctive symbol of spiritual strength.

Tomb of the Unknown Soldier

Washington Square, between Sixth & Seventh streets on Walnut Street

This is the only tomb in the United States built in memory of unknown Revolutionary War soldiers.

Wagner Free Institute of Science

1700 W. Montgomery Ave

215-763-6529

This museum and educational institution has survived nearly unchanged since the 19th century.